

WRITING IN THE FIELD

Festschrift for Stephen Tyler (Volume I)

Edited by Ivo Strecker and Shauna LaTosky

CONTENTS

(As of April 24, 2008)

PART 1: Entering the field

Sophia Thubauville (Mainz): Getting used to the anthropologist.

Susanne Schröter (Passau): On ethnographic self-fashioning.

Nikolaus Scharaika (Cologne): Knowing one's and other's place.

Christian Meyer (Mainz): In search of the right site in the field.

Jon Abbink (Leiden): Eureka! Constructing discovery in ethnographic fieldwork.

David Scheffel (Kamloops): Resurrection in Uzhhorod.

Holger Jebens (Frankfurt): Miming the anthropologist.

Part 2: Between home and field

Paul Friedrich (Chicago): Two long walks and two short nights.

James Faubion (Rice): Heterographies.

Nurit Bird-David (Tel Aviv): The emperor's new clothes.

Karl-Heinz Kohl (Frankfurt): Dreams in the field.

Echi Gabbert (Halle): To work with Gino.

Petra Rethmann (Hamilton): A day on Red Square

Bernhard Streck (Leipzig): Hitrel en Nil or The End of Dialogue.

Part 3: Writing in the field

Felix Girke (Halle): Fieldwork Aporia.

Susanne Epple (Addis Ababa): Recording in the field.

Anna-Maria Brandstetter (Mainz): Notes of a social drama in the rain forest.

Shauna LaTosky (Mainz): Smelling spirits and speaking birds.

Jean Lydall (Jinka): Fieldwork in the fields

Ivo Strecker (Mainz/Addis Ababa): What caused Baldambe's death?

Ralph Cintron (Chicago): Ordering the world: Riots in the Balkans, war in Iraq.

Michael Oppitz (Zurich): Himalayan diaries.

David MacDougall (Canberra): From a filmmaker's journal.