

ASTONISHMENT AND EVOCATION

Festschrift for Stephen Tyler

(Volume II)

Edited by

Ivo Strecker and Markus Verne

CONTENTS

(As of 26. April, 2008)

Part I:

Jean de Bernardi (Toronto): The Fakir.

Susan du Mesnil (Karlsruhe): My favourite Shit Story.

Echi Gabbert (Halle): Gordjante Arbore.

Susanne Epple (Mainz): Sill-Ama.

Jürg Gasché (Iquitos): Cuatro Cantos Adivinanzas Huitoto.

Part II:

Todd Oakley (Cleveland): Do Pictures Stare? Thoughts about six Elements of Attention.

Boris Wiseman (Durham): Tangled up in Blue. Art as Incantatory Magic.

Philippe Salazar (Capetown): Fleet, Tennis and Cards. Painted Anthropology.

Klaus-Peter Köpping (London/Berlin): Visceral Visitations: The Return of the Rabelaisian Body in the Cinema.

Anthony Paul (Amsterdam): Turning the chi of Chiasmus.

Marie-Cécile Bertau (Munich): Reflections on 'Kairos'.

Markus Verne (Bayreuth): The Makassar Soul of Hanitra. Music, History, and Astonishment.

Ivo Strecker (Mainz/Addis Ababa): Co-presence, Astonishment and Evocation in Ethnographic Film.

Barbara Tedlock (Buffalo): Ethnographic Evocations.

Part III:

James Fox (Canberra): The Anger of the Father. Kid's Talk and the Mockery of Animals.

James Fernandez (Chicago): "Tears Idle Tears". On Our Entangled Emotions and Their Disambiguation.

Dennis Tedlock (Buffalo): Stones, Drumbeats, Footprints and Mysteries in the Writing of the Other.

Vincenzo Cannada Bartoli (Rome): Abelardo. The Man who Wanted to Unlearn Reading.

Alexander Henn (Tempe): „The Unspeakable“. Problems of Bodily Apprehension in the Fieldwork Process.

Douglas Lewis (Melbourne): A Stranger's Reading of Strangers' Writing. The Translation of the Said and the Unsaid in Sikkinese Texts.

Robert Hariman (Evanstone): Reading Culture.